At the heart of offshore wind

Since 2002, Semco Maritime has been an important part of many offshore wind projects. Based on our extensive experience and world-class engineering, we have developed ways to make sections of the substation into standard proven concepts - while meeting the exact needs and expectations of our clients.

The total capacity of these offshore wind projects exceeds 4,500 MW.

We specialise in all aspects of bringing energy to shore - including telecommunication systems, firefighting systems, manpower and transport solutions. We design and deliver all necessary electrical equipment and we make sure that the substation runs smoothly throughout its lifetime by offering full service concepts for offshore wind farms as well as ad hoc modification and maintenance.
